Kissing.

When I asked her, "Wilt thou kiss me?"
Naught she said, but hung her cheek so,
As if she were thinking, thinking,
Whether she might do't or no.

Then, her fair, kind face upturning,
One sweet touch I here did win;
As if she were thinking, thinking,
Such small favors are no sin.

She therein lost no composure,
Nor ashamed did she seem;
Early chaste may grant such favors,
Therein losing no esteem.

Another writer surpasses the above, if quantity be the criterion proper:
"Oh, quit—get out—now don't you—
I really wish you wouldn't,
Oh, quit—will you?—get out,
You know you ought to shouldn't."

"There now you've got it—oh, be still,
You shan't have any more,
You've got it—oh take away your face,
What no man got before.

"Once more—there—that'll do—don't,
You've rumpled up my hair;
If you'll but quit, I'll give you one,
Now take it—there—there—there."

From the Land We Love.
Sketch of the First Kentucky Brigade.

In the general history which will go down to posterity of such immense bodies of men as were gathered under the banners of the Confederate States of America, it is not likely that more than a brief and cursory reference can or will be made to the services of so small a force as composed the First Kentucky Brigade. Yet the anomalous position which it occupied in regard to the revolution, in having revolted against both State and Federal authority, exiling itself from home, from friends—abandoning everything which makes life desirable save honor, gave it an individuality which cannot fail to attract the attention of the calm student, who, in coming years, traces the progress of the mighty social convulsion in which it acted no ignoble part. The State, too, from which it came, whatever may be its destiny or its ultimate fate, will remember, with melancholy and mournful interest, not perhaps unmixed with remorse, the career of that gallant band of men, who, of all the thousands in its borders inheriting the proud name and lofty fame of Kentuckians, stood forth fearlessly by deeds to express the sentiments of an undoubted majority of her people—disapprobation of wrong and tyranny. Children now in their cradles, youths as yet unborn, will enquire, with an earnest eagerness which volumes of recital can not satisfy, how their countrymen demeaned themselves in the fierce ordeal which they had elected as the test of their patriotism—how they bore themselves on the march, and in the bivouac, how in the trials of the long and sad retreat—how amid the wild carnage of the strecken field. Fair daughters of the state will oftentimes, even amid the rigid censorship which forbade utterance of words love to come in thought to linger about the lonely graves where the men of the Kentucky Brigade sleep, wrapped in no winding sheet save their battle clothes, beneath no monument save the trees of the forest torn and mutilated by the iron storm, in which the slumberers met death. It has seemed to me not improper therefore that the story should be told by one possessing peculiar facilities for acquiring knowledge of the movements of detached portions of the force, and who, in the capacity of a staff officer, under the directions of its General, issued every order and participated in every movement of the brigade, who had not only the opportunity but the desire to do justice to all who composed it, from him who bore worthily the truncheon of the General, to those who not less worthily in their places bore their muskets as privates. A deep interest will always be felt in the history of the effort which was made, by men strong in their faith in the correctness of republican forms of government, notwithstanding the tyranny which the great experiment in the United States had culminated in, to reconstruct from the shattered fragments of free institutions upon which the armies of the Federal power were trampling, a social and political fabric, under the shelter of which they and their posterity might enjoy the rights of freemen. When the first seven Southern States seceded and President Lincoln took the initial steps to coerce them, the Legislature of Kentucky, by an almost unanimous vote of the House of Representatives, declared that "any attempt to do so by marching troops over her soil would be resisted to the last extremity. The Governor had refused to respond to the call of the Executive for troops for this purpose. The Legislature approved his course. But here unanimity ceased; effort after effort was made in the Legislature to provide for the call of a sovereignty convention. The majority steadily opposed it. As a compromise, the neutrality of the State was assumed, acquiesced in by the sympathizers with the North because they intended to violate it when the occasion was ripe; acquiesced in by the Southern men because while their impulses all prompted them to make common cause with their Southern brethren, they believed that the neutrality of the State in presenting an effective barrier of seven hundred miles of frontier between the South and invasion, offered her more efficient assistance than the most active cooperation could have done. The Legislature adjourned; the canvass commenced for a new General Assembly; delegates were elected pledged to strict neutrality; the Northern sympathizers had been vigorous, active, and energetic, and unscrupulous. They had in every county organized "Home Guards," arms were, by their connivance, introduced by the Federal government in large quantities. On the 1st Monday in September the Legislature met, the mask was thrown off; neutrality was scouted; troops were openly levied for the Northern army, and the outraged Southern men revolted.

Early in the summer of 1861, bodies of the young men of the State had repaired to Camp Boone, in Tennessee, near the Kentucky line, where were forming regiments to be mustered into the service of the Confederate States. Most of these had been previously members of the State Guard of Kentucky, and consequently had enjoyed the advantage of systematic and scientific drill, they were rapidly organized into three regiments of infantry, known as the 2d, 3rd, and 4th Kentucky regiments of volunteers, the 2nd having as its Colonel J. M. Hawes, recently an officer of the U. S. Army, but who with a devotion which almost invariably manifests itself among the officers of Southern birth, promptly and cheerfully gave up the advantage of a certain and fixed position in a regularly organized army, to offer his sword and military knowledge to the cause of Southern independence. He was soon succeeded by Colonel Roger Hanson; the 3rd had as its Colonel Lloyd Tighman, the 4th Robert P. Trabue. Colonel Tighman before his regiment was actively in service, was made a Brigadier, and its Lieut. Colonel, Thomas son, succeeded to the Colonelcy. These three regiments formed the nucleus of a brigade to the command of which, Brigadier General S. B. Buckner, recently Inspector General and active commander of the Kentucky State Guard, was assigned by President Davis. To this command were afterwards added the 5th Kentucky, commanded by Col. Thomas Hunt, the 6th commanded by Colonel Joseph Lewis, Cobb's battery and Byrnes' battery of artillery.

On the 17th of September 1861, General Buckner, with some Tennessee troops and the Kentucky regiments, moved to Bowling Green, in Kentucky, and occupied it fortifying it and fitting it for the base of active operations of the Confederate armies in Kentucky, which it became for some months. One regiment of infantry and a battery of artillery were thrown forward to the bridge on Green River, under command of Col. Hawes; the bridge shortly after was burned by the Confederate troops. Captain John Morgan a few days subsequently to this, reached this command with one hundred men from the interior of Kentucky. These men were mounted, to serve as scouts and afterwards gained for their fearless leader a continental reputation as a bold, daring and effective partisan officer.

Happy Denouement.

We do not believe it the legitimate province of the press to stoop to scandal, or to search into the misdoings or short-comings of private life to amuse or instruct the public; but a pleasant little story came to our knowledge a day or two since which will bear telling, and may serve to "point a moral or adorn a tale."
Among the most enterprising and industrious merchants of Selma, is one whom we will call Smith, principally because it isn't his name, who is blessed with a most exemplary wife in all respects save one—she is of rather a jealous disposition. Mr.

BOOK, PLAIN AND FANCY

Smith has been of late very much engrossed in his business, and has often consumed his evenings over his ledger, instead of in the bosom of his family as has been his custom for years. In reply to the enquiries of Mrs. S. on the subject he would always say that he was employed in his business. She did not understand how business could take up so much of his time, and her suspicions were aroused that all was not right. Visions of hours spent by her husband in other female society than her own haunted her mind, and she made an inward vow to watch him and see for herself.

Soon after arriving at this resolution a telegram arrived for her husband and was sent to his office, which was closed, as he had gone to supper. The carrier went to his house and delivered it to the servant at the door. The gentleman not having arrived it was handed to his wife, who with true feminine curiosity, read it. It was plain and short:

"Montgomery, Dec. 3d, 1867.
"Mr. Smith: Meet Gertrude to-night."

Here was a horrible confirmation of her worst fears. Controlling herself as best she could, she laid the dispatch by his plate. He came in, read it, and said he "would have to go to town after supper, and might not be back till late; she need not sit up for him." He hurried through his meal, took his hat and walked hurriedly down the street. Before he had turned the corner his wife was following him swiftly and noiselessly. He went straight on, she close behind, until he reached the wharf. After an apparent inspection of the surroundings he stepped down the hill and took a seat in the office of the Magnolia. His wife took a position where she could see him through the glass door and waited for the finale—which was expected in the shape of the Gertrude whom her faithless spouse was to meet. Time dragged on wearily and the lady became drowsy and at last fell into a doze, from which she was awakened by the shrill whistle of an approaching steamer. Nearer and nearer she came, and as she rounded to, the name of "Gertrude," in large, brightly painted letters, met the view of the jealous wife, and a stentorian voice, inquiring if Smith was on hand completed her awakening.

At a glance the position was realized, and the poor woman could have cried for vexation as she saw her husband and another gentleman hurriedly transacting some business within a few feet of her. At that moment a tipsy negro came stumbling along, and seeing a woman's dress half hidden among the bales and boxes of merchandise, seized her, exclaiming, "come out ob dar, ole gal." Her scream of terror brought her husband to the scene, whose astonishment may be imagined. She fell into his arms, and, with a hysterical burst of sobs, an explanation ensued. The party returned to their home in a hack, and somebody's head was on somebody's bosom all the way. Since that time all that Smith had to do to avert a scolding is to insinuate that he will "meet Gertrude."

Military Commissions.

It is very absurd in General Ord to tax the people with the expense of civil courts if their judgments are to be set aside and new action undertaken at the will of the military. It is disgusting in the extreme to witness the pandering to the demands of the freedmen, who are never satisfied with a decision against them, and in all cases where life has been taken, the demands of the black mob are invariably granted. We have been made acquainted with a case in point. Capt. Johnson, of Hinds county, was tried by Justice Clark, at Clinton, for the killing of a freedman. The testimony before the magistrate would have acquitted him in any court, as it was manifestly a case of justifiable homicide, but for prudential reasons, (an angry negro mob being near at hand) Captain Johnson, by consent of his counsel, was remanded for trial. He gave bond for his appearance, but was re-arrested, and is now incarcerated in a dungeon awaiting the decision of a military commission. Such action is embittering the white population more and more, and it matters not how honest or honorable a military commission may be, the strong repugnance of the people to the unnecessary interferences by the military authorities, will only be known when felt in all its force.—Vick. Her.

THE CYNTHIANA NEWS

CYNTHIANA, KY.

THURSDAY, : : : Jan. 2, 1868.

A. J. MOREY, EDITOR.

Mexico.

This poor, God-forsaken country has again become embroiled in another revolution. Our information is that starvation and destitution pervades the country, and that robbing and murder is resorted to by the lower classes to keep up an existence. A new revolution has broken out in Yucatan, and many of the old soldiers who fought against Maximilian have joined the insurgents. Old peg-leg Santa Anna has been proclaimed Dictator, and is expected among them soon, with a million of money, and an additional number of reinforcements.

Juarez has been inaugurated President, and the Mexican Congress is in session.

The banditti are swarming in every state in the republic.

Such, we learn with sorrow, is the condition of a country which has been under the especial care of the Radicals of this country, and such will be the condition of the Northern portion of this country, if Radical notions and ideas are triumphant.

Military Changes.

His Excellency, President Johnson, is making many changes in the military affairs of the country. The constitution of the country says that he shall be commander-in-chief of the army and navy of the United States, and from indications he seems to be exercising his authority handsomely.

He relieves Gen. E. O. C. Ord of the command of the Fourth District, and sends him to California, and puts Gen. McDowell in his place. Gen. Pope is ordered to report immediately to Washington and Gen. Meade is assigned to command his department. Gen. Swain is relieved of duty in the Bureau department, and ordered to take command of his regiment. He is only a Colonel. The indications are that the President intends to give relief to our Southern friends.

Negro Outrages.

The news from Virginia is disheartening. It is said that the negroes having been promised a forty acre farm and two mules apiece, have become enraged because they have not received them and are committing all manner of outrages for revenge, and are burning houses and slaying stock. The whites, it is said, are determined to defend themselves unless the government can protect them. Such is radicalism.

The New Year, 1868.

A new year has begun, and with it new born hopes spring into life. Those hopes are sometimes happy and sometimes unhappy. They often originate in the hearts of those who never live to see them realized, and the world can never know the anguish and sorrow that often falls to the lot of the disappointed. But the new year of 1868, comes into existence, and brings with it many fearful forebodings for the future. Some people hope that their efforts to make a respectable competency for themselves, will be better this year than it was last. All we can say to such, is, that if the hills are higher, the roads rougher, the winds stronger than usual, that their efforts for success must be increased with the emergency. There is a good living in this land of plenty for every white or black man, who will use industry and energy to make it. Air castles amount to nothing unless an effort is made to build them. The hopes of every individual will amount only to hopes, unless some effort is made to realize them. We could not hope even to see the day-light unless we would open our eyes. We could not hope to catch larks, unless the heavens would fall, and no hopes should be entertained, for such a catastrophe. Hope for nothing that cannot be realized. Make your calculations upon success in life, put forth the proper energy and our word for it, your expectations and hopes will be happily brought about.

The new year has opened out, and with it every man and woman should resolve to try and do better and live happier this year than last.

First, determine to pay your debts, if you owe a man a cent, if you have the money, and if you have none, make arrangements to make some, and relieve yourself. If you pay your debts it will enable another man to pay his, and therefore increase your credit and benefit the country.

Second, don't carry money in your pocket for speculation purposes, and refuse to pay your honest debts by putting up a "poor mouth" about the hard times, &c., for this is indeed dishonest and your creditors will find you out. You may hope to deceive, but you cannot.

Third, we deny that times are hard. It is false. It exists only in the imagination of humanity. Did not our land yield an average crop of corn, and didn't the distillers pay a larger price for grain last year than for many years heretofore? Then why should the people of this country grumble about hard times. Bah! We believe it is sinful to do it. We should feel like thanking heaven for the blessings bestowed upon us, instead of talking in a repining spirit.

Fourthly, remember that there is another and better world, and that we are only sojourning here; that it is sinful and wrong to place ones heart upon mammon only, but that we should all act and live with the intention of doing better and better every year as age grows upon us; and now that we have been permitted to live and see the light of a new year, it should be the duty of each individual to resolve anew that he or she will do more good in the future than has been done in the past. Don't forget that "You are pilgrims; you are strangers, That you will not tarry but a night; You will not stay, for you are going, Where the streamlets are ever flowing, Where the sunbeams are ever shining, Are you longing for the sight? Within a country hard times are dreary, You've been wandering forlorn and weary, Of that country to which we're going There's no sorrow, no more sighing, No hard times, nor any dying."

Enterprise.

The citizens of Cynthiana have the reputation of being thoroughly alive and active in all enterprises for improving and beautifying their city, and they deserve the good name they have acquired. Although they have done so much, it is not yet time to fold the hands and rest satisfied with what has been done. We believe our people have only commenced their aggressive movements against shabby and dingy streets, and old oil lamps with smoke black chimneys, which every gust of wind will blow out. Our leading men are now working in earnest for gas light, and Mr. Solomon is already making preparations for selecting a site for the works. The best way to increase the population and business of our city, is to make it attractive to all enterprising men who are seeking a place where enterprise is profitable. The man who is liberal in his expenditures beautifying his own property or the town in which he lives, generally makes a good investment, because the meanest value of property is so much increased by these means.

But aside from these general considerations, those who take stock in the gas company are likely to realize good per cent on their investments. Gas stock generally bears a high price in market. It is estimated that works supplying sixty consumers here would pay a dividend of 8 per cent. on the stock; with one hundred consumers, 12 per cent. This being the case, the money invested is by no means sunk, but brings a good return to the stockholder, besides increasing the market value of his property. Then let our people not be backward nor lukewarm in this matter. Let us all work earnestly and success will soon reward our labors.

Indignation Meeting.

Pursuant to previous notice a large audience, irrespective of party, assembled at the courthouse on the 27th inst. to give expression to their feelings in regard to the violation of the international law, by the imprisonment of our adopted fellow-citizens in the jails of England and the impressment of others into military service in Prussia and Germany. The meeting was organized by calling Hon. I. T. Martin to the chair, who in a brief and patriotic speech, told of the wrongs heaped upon our naturalized citizens on foreign soil, and asked the meeting to take some action to bring the matter before Congress.

A. J. Beale was then made Secretary, and on motion Messrs. C. W. West, P. Wherrett, J. S. Boyd, Wm. Smyth and P. O'Sullivan were appointed a committee on resolutions. They reported the following which were unanimously adopted:

Resolved, That they have always been taught by the founders of the republic, as well as by those to whom in later days they have been accustomed to look for the proper interpretation of the rights, powers and duties of the Government, its aim and purposes that the flag of our country, affords ample protection to all who seek refuge under its broad and capacious folds, and that an injury to any one, however humble he may be, who is thus shielded is an insult to the nation, for which prompt reparation is required and must be rendered.

Resolved, That the recent arrest of American citizens upon British soil for their supposed complicity in crime against the British government (and the frequent arrests of like citizens upon Prussian soil and their incorporation into her armies) is a gross violation of that principle which constituted one of the main causes of the last war between the two nations, the one contending for and exercising the right to search our vessels on the high seas and impress our naturalized seamen; holding to the monarchical doctrine that no one of its citizens had a right to expatriate himself; the other, that he had the right to choose the country in which he would cast his lot and pledge fealty to it, that such principle although not definitely settled in the treaty which brought that war to a close, has ever since been regarded as settled the right never having been claimed or exercised; and that the government owes it to its own justice and dignity in the very aspect of affairs, but involving the same principle, presented by the outrages of which we complain, to declare that the right of none of her citizens, native or adopted, shall be trampled upon with impunity by any foreign power.

Resolved, That we condemn in unmeasured terms the conduct of our representative at the British court, in failing to interpose the power of the Government entrusted to men in behalf of the lives and liberty of his fellow citizens in that country, and if the authorities of this nation are true to themselves, to the people whom they represent, and to the cause of republican freedom, of which this nation assumes to be the embodiment, they will promptly remove this recreant official from a position which he has, by his conduct toward his suffering countrymen, shows that he is unfitted to fill.

Resolved, And finally we invoke the executive authorities at Washington and the representatives of the people in the national Congress to a remembrance of the glorious past of our history to the prompt assertion of the rights of the government which that history teaches, to an equally prompt exercise of its power in behalf of its citizens whenever and wherever exposed to insult and injury and that they will never permit the flag of our country to be trailed in the dust by a pusillanimous fear of upholding it in the face of any nation no matter how proud, powerful or defiant.

Resolved, That a copy of these proceedings be forwarded to the President of the United States and to each of the Senators from Kentucky.

Resolved, That the following papers be requested to publish the proceedings of this meeting: Cynthiana News, Bourbon Democrat, Trae Kentuckian, Louisville Courier and Cincinnati Enquirer.

Eloquent speeches were made by Mulligan, Esq., and C. W. West, Esq. On motion the meeting then adjourned. A. J. BEALE, Sec'y.

From the Princeton, Ky., Progress.

The Assassin Burbridge.

We see in the papers an account of the shooting at and wounding of Mr. Morey, editor of the Princeton Progress, by a brother of the notorious rascal, Gen. Burbridge, because Mr. Morey dared (?) to tell some unpleasant truths about the hyena of Kentucky.

Henderson News. You are mistaken, friend Harrison. It was the veteran editor of the Cynthiana News, Mr. A. J. Morey, who was shot by the villain Burbridge. We are still sound in body, and sounding the animadversion of all such incarnate fiends as this murderer, whose very name we loathe to write, associated as it is with murder, rapine, and all the long catalogue of his crimes. If his vengeance is not thoroughly sated with the blood of one Morey, there is another over here, another whose motto is "Be just and fear not," and who makes a practice of denouncing villany wherever it may be found.

The day has past when any assassin or clique of murderers and robbers can muzzle the press of Kentucky. It cannot be done by a Burbridge, especially Burbridge the tyrant, Burbridge the murderer, Burbridge the robber, Burbridge the thief, Burbridge the vandal; Burbridge the vampire, and his brother, Burbridge the assassin, had better watch their points, or the just rewards of their many heinous offenses against law, order and humanity may be visited upon their degenerate heads.

Had Mr. Morey made a statement that was not strictly true, there is a law in the land now, if there was none when a Burbridge ruled. An editor is amenable to that law. Let such men remember that an attempt to throttle the public press is sometimes attended with danger.

The crimes of the Burbridges are too patent to need further comment. Suffice it to say that death by hanging is too merciful. That they deserve worse is felt by all to whom God has given sufficient discrimination to make their judgment of the deserts of crime worthy of thought.

Governor Fenton, of New York, has written a letter advocating the burial of the Confederate dead, in the Antietam Cemetery. He says: A strong local and individual feeling, in the neighborhood of Antietam and other parts of Maryland, naturally engendered by the invasion, may have created some indifference in regard to the Confederate dead, and an indistinct position to see them buried side by side with those who died in defense of our nationality. But it is confidently believed that no such feeling pervades the breasts of the American people, or the surviving officers and soldiers of the Union armies."

We clip the following from the Washington correspondent of the Cincinnati Enquirer:

A petition for the pardon of W. W. Cleary, formerly of Cynthiana, Ky., who was in the rebel service, and who was subsequently accused of plotting with conspirators the assassination of Lincoln, is before the Attorney General. It is signed by a large number of public men, including Republicans.

A locomotive belonging to the Chicago and Rock Island Railroad, exploded near Sixteenth street, Chicago, yesterday morning. One man was instantly killed and two others wounded. The locomotive was condemned a year ago, but was still used in switching and drawing the gravel trains.

The Great Medical Annual.

Hostetter's United States Almanac for 1868, for distribution, gratis, throughout the United States and all civilized countries of the Western Hemisphere, will be published about the first of January, and all who wish to understand the true philosophy of health should read and ponder the valuable suggestion it contains. In addition to an admirable medical treatise on the causes, prevention and cure of a great variety of diseases, it embraces a large amount of information interesting to the merchant, the mechanic, the farmer, the planter, and the professional man; and the calculations have been made for such meridians and latitudes as are most suitable for a correct and comprehensive National Calendar.

The nature, uses, and extraordinary sanitary effects of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, the staple tonic and alternative of more than half the Christian World, are fully set forth in its pages, which are also interspersed with valuable receipts, numerous anecdotes and other instructive and amusing reading matter, original and selected. Among the Annals to appear with the opening of the year, this will be one of the most useful, and may be had for the asking. Send for copies to the Central Manufacturing Co., at Pittsburg, or to the nearest agent for Hostetter's Stomach Bitters. The Bitters are sold in every city, town, and village of the United States.

OFFICE OF THE LEXINGTON MALT HOUSE.

WOLF & YELLMAN, Prop'rs.

LEXINGTON, KY., Nov. 30, 1867.

HAVING determined to give our undivided attention to the MALTING business and the trade in HOPS exclusively, we have this day discontinued the manufacture of Malt Liqueurs, and leased our brewery for a term of years to Messrs. Walker & Co., whom we can commend to our customers and the public in general as fully competent and worthy to merit a continuance of the liberal patronage heretofore extended to us, and for which, in retiring from the brewing business, we tender to our friends and customers our grateful acknowledgments. Having but lately erected an extensive Malt House, complete in all its appointments, and having located in the heart of one of the best barley growing regions in the country, we possess facilities for conducting the Malt business unsurpassed by any similar establishment in the West, and we are prepared to furnish distillers' and brewers' yeast, and other qualities of malt below Cincinnati or Louisville prices. Parties desiring barley or rye malted, can be accommodated on reasonable terms. New York and Wisconsin Hops constantly on hand and for sale. Distillers and brewers are respectfully invited to examine our stock of Malt and Hops before ordering from abroad. WOLF & YELLMAN.

We are under obligations to Mr. J. Reneker, Jr., for late Northern papers. He reports the cattle market quite vacillating at this time.

The Legislature of Kentucky will assemble on the 8th of this month. We understand that it has been many years since a more orderly or intelligent body of men met at Frankfort, than our present representatives.

We understand that the Methodist congregation at this place, are thinking seriously of erecting a new and splendid house of worship. We are pleased to hear that such is the case.

The attention of our readers is directed to an advertisement of Farm for sale, by G. R. Sharpe. It is a valuable piece of land and in a high state of cultivation. Purchasers should go and see it.

A great fire occurred in Cincinnati last week, in which some thirteen thousand barrels of whisky was destroyed. The loss is estimated at seven hundred thousand dollars, and as we have been informed, only partially insured.

Mr. C. G. Land is disposing of his dry goods at greatly reduced prices. In fact he will sell his calicos and ladies dress patterns to suit purchasers. His goods' furnishing goods he offers very low. dec26

On Christmas day two men named Hultz, entered the hotel of J. A. Hamilton, at Claysville, with a bottle of whisky, which they purchased elsewhere. They asked for a glass to drink their whisky, and on being refused, attacked Mr. Hamilton, and bruised him up shamefully. On the 26th inst., Mr. Mart Ashbury shot Mr. E. R. Jackson in a difficulty, seriously but not mortally. Cause unknown.

Since the last issue of the "News," we have been informed that Craddock of the "Kentuckian," will open a new and extensive chandlery establishment. He has been called upon to act as agent for the sale of this character of goods, and we hope he will be successful. It is said that the introduction of gas in the city of Paris is the cause of this new move. We hope he will send us an advertisement. We will be able to send him a number of customers.

The Masonic Banquet.

Last Friday night the Masonic Fraternity of this city enjoyed themselves extensively at a banquet prepared for them at the Rankin House, by mine host T. R. Rankin and lady. Notwithstanding the inclemency of the weather, an excellent crowd of ladies and gentlemen were present and partook heartily of the viands prepared. The tables were loaded with oyster soup, oysters fried and oysters raw, and the wit and good cheer which invested the affair rendered it much more agreeable than was anticipated. The Cynthiana band graced the occasion with their presence, and delighted the party with excellent music.

We have heard many complaints recently, that during Christmas the boys of our town behaved very roughly and insultingly to several old and respectable citizens. This is wrong and must be stopped. Parents will find out that they will be held responsible for the behavior of their children—that if they are not corrected and compelled to observe the common laws of the town, that the mayor of the city will impose a fine on the parents, and somebody will be made to suffer for a violation of the laws. No one can object to the boys enjoying themselves, and celebrating Christmas as they please, but they have no right to insult, abuse or personally disturb any individual within the corporate limits of Cynthiana. Any boy over fourteen years of age can and will be held responsible. We don't believe that the boys of Cynthiana are wilder than those of other places, as a general thing, but there are perhaps some few who need correcting by their parents, and if they are permitted to go on unchecked in their own way, will bring trouble and sorrow on their friends, for we know that the authorities have been applied to for protection against them, and unless a different course is pursued by those whom we have in our minds eye, they will get into mischief certain. The mayor has permitted this offence to go unpunished, but look out for the next time, boys.

THE NEW YEAR.

BY J. L. GRIFFITH.

Another Year with swift revolving wheel, Hath rolled its ceaseless circuit round; On onward swiftly moves the car of Time, Its mechanism yields no sound. Headless of drifting winds or pelting storm, Its bold path is the earth's wide sweep, Where the Northern lights gild the snow, Or where rolls the unfathomed deep.

Another Year hath flown; its joys, its woes; None beside Omnipotent away. Its reckless, proud, defiant course can stop, Or stay thy wheel, O Time! a day. The gay; the proud; in love and beauty's train; The desolate; heaven's chosen band, All moving on like sand before the wind, To the dark and shadowy land.

Another Year and the grim old monarch With book of evil deeds; of crime, Hath marked it well to square accounts with some. To others give a longer time; Here he wanders through life's blissful bowers, And claims an angel for his own, And there where flourish green the palm and vine, Breathes still the man in sin o'er grown.

Another Year! hath Time thus swiftly flown? So soon gone down to nightly gloom? And shall these fleeting moments and our bark, So mould'ring nath the tomb? Ah! many hopes that grew when thou wert young, That clustered thickly round thy birth, That raised the soul or roused the drooping mind, Now sleep with thee beneath the earth.

Another Year lies buried with the past; And who has not with tearful eyes, While men's fingers linger on the grave of joy, Poured out a libation of sighs? Ah! earth-born creatures must be pure indeed, If at the dawn of this New Year, They find no dark sins to be forgiven, No vain regret, no sigh, no tear.

Another Year hath closed its wild career; And gliding o'er its waves so dark, 'Tis meet to rest upon the oar and ask, Where will this stream of time lead our bark? Happy are they freighted for life's journey Who at the close of life's even, Can guide their worn and tempest-toss'd vessel, Sately to the port of H. heaven. Cynthiana, Ky., Jan. 1, 1867.

AUCTIONEERING.

KENTUCKY STATE LOTTERY!

The only Legalized Drawing of the kind in the United States.

Grand Holiday Drawing!

to be drawn at COVINGTON, Ky.

CLASS Y, December 31, 1867.

No more acceptable and appropriate present can be made to a mother, wife, daughter, husband, or father, than a ticket in the Kentucky State Lottery. It has long been acknowledged that it offers greater inducements to the purchasers of tickets than any other legalized lottery in the world. The December scheme surpasses, in grandeur, anything of the kind ever presented to the public. It distributes $200,000. The capital prize is $50,000, insuring a handsome fortune to the lucky holder of the corresponding ticket. Hundreds of well attested instances, similar to the following, are almost daily occurring:—Miss Mary Russell Mifflin, who died in 1855, when only ten years old; gained, as a prize in a lottery, the handsome sum of ten thousand pounds, or fifty thousand dollars. The ticket which drew the magnificent sum, was presented to her by her father, one of the most prominent men and judges of the time. How many homes would be brightened by a similar success in the grand holiday drawing of the Kentucky State Lottery, on December 31st, 1867.

LIST OF PRIZES.

1 prize of $50,000 9 prizes of $300
1 prize of 20,000 9 prizes of 250
1 prize of 8,000 153 prizes of 205
1 prize of 7,000 9 prizes of 150
2 prizes of 5,000 220 prizes of 120
20 prizes of 1,000 18 prizes of 100
63 prizes of 400 261 prizes of 50

Prizes amounting to $230,650. 32,000 Numbers and 788 Prizes.

Tickets $12, Halves 6, Quarters 3

PLAN OF THE LOTTERY.

The numbers from 1 to 32,000 printed on separate slips of paper, are enclosed with small tin tubes, and placed in one wheel. The prizes, of which there are 788, varying as above, from $50,000 to $50, are similarly printed on separate slips, enclosed and placed in another wheel. The wheels are then revolved, and a number is drawn from the wheel of numbers, and at the same time a prize is drawn from the other wheel. The number and prize drawn out are opened and exhibited to the audience, and registered, the prize being placed against the number drawn. This operation is repeated until all the prizes are drawn out.

The above magnificent scheme will be drawn in public in Covington, Ky., on the 1st day of December, 1867, being the great holiday drawing of the year.

The above magnificent single number Lottery will be drawn in public, in Covington, Ky., by sworn Commissioners, at one o'clock, p. m., at the corner of 4th and Scott streets. The Kentucky State Lotteries are no Gift Enterprises, but responsible money lotteries, that have been conducted for the past thirty years, and are drawn under the authority of a charter from the State, and bonds are given for the payment of all prizes.

The official list of numbers drawing prizes will be published in the N. Y. Herald, Chicago papers, Cincinnati Daily Commercial and Cincinnati German papers. Address all orders for tickets to MURRAY, EDDY & CO., Covington, Ky. Dec12d

NOTICE.—This is to give notice that on the 25th day of Nov. 1867, a warrant in bankruptcy was issued against the estate of JNO. P. PATTON, of—, in the county of Pendleton and State of Kentucky, who has been adjudged a bankrupt, on his own petition; that the payment of any debts and delivery of any property belonging to such bankrupt, to him, or for his use, and the transfer of any property by him are forbidden by law; that a meeting of the creditors of the said bankrupt, to prove their debts, and to choose one or more assignees of his estate, will be held at a court of bankruptcy, to be held at Covington, Ky., before Jno. W. Finnell, Register, on the 21st day of December 1867, at 10 o'clock, a. m.

LYON'S PERIODICAL DROPS!
The Great Female Remedy for Irregularities!!!
I HAVE tested these Drops in my own practice, over ten years, and do not hesitate to say, that nothing has yet been developed by medical research, that acts so powerfully, positively and harmlessly, in cases of female irregularity, as does this medicine. In all recent cases it never fails, while thousands who have been long sufferers, are indebted to it for the boon of health to-day.
Although so powerful, and positive, they perfectly harmless, and may be used at all times, except when specially forbidden in the directions.
They have been extensively employed by eminent physicians in France and England, as well as in my own practice, over ten years, and I have yet to hear of the first instance of failure. I could give you testimonials of their efficacy from ladies all over the Northern and North Western States, were they not in their nature, private. Over 100,000 bottles have been sold the last year, and I hope and trust as many sufferers have been benefited. I am well aware that a remedy so potent to remove all obstructions, may be used for a bad purpose, but trust that when one bottle is thus used, ten may fall into the hands of really needy sufferers.
To all who suffer from any irregularity, painful, difficult, excessive, offensive or obstructed Menstruation, Leucorrhoea, or the train of diseases that follow, I would say, try a bottle of Dr. Lyon's French Periodical Drops. Being a fluid preparation, their action is more direct and positive than any pills or powders. Explicit directions, bearing my facsimile, accompany each bottle.
They may be obtained of nearly every druggist in the country, or by enclosing the price to C. G. Clark & Co., New Haven, Ct. General agents for the United States in Canada.

BOOK AGENTS WANTED
To solicit for a new illustrated
Bible Dictionary.
(complete in one volume.)
Edited by Dr. Wm. Smith, classical examiner of the University of London.
The Dictionary embodies the results of the most recent study, and investigation, of about 65 of the most eminent and advanced Biblical scholars now living. Clergymen of different denominations approve it, and regard it as the best work of its kind in the English language, and one which ought to be in the hands of every bible reader in the land.
In circulating this work, agents will find a pleasant and profitable employment. The numerous objections which are usually entered in selling ordinary works will not exist with this. But on the contrary, encouragement and friendly aid will attend the agent, making his labor agreeable, useful and lucrative.
Ladies, Clergymen, school teachers, farmers, students and all others who possess energy, are wanted to assist in canvassing every town and country in the country, to whom the most liberal inducements will be offered. For particulars address,

POLA ND
MAGIC BILIOUS POWDERS!!!
THIS PREPARATION IS THE DISCOVERY of the Rev. J. W. Poland, formerly pastor of the Baptist Church in Godstown, N. H., and a man deeply beloved by that denomination throughout New England. He was obliged to leave the pulpit and study medicine to save his own life, and his Magic Powders are one of the most wonderful discoveries of modern times. It completely throws in the shade all other discoveries in medicine, and it affords him much gratification that they receive the unanimous approbation of all who have tested them. The Magic Bilious Powders are a positive cure for Liver Complaint, in its most aggravated form, and an immediate corrector of all Bilious Derangements. Excellent for headache, constipation, plagues, blotches, a sallow skin, drowsiness, dizziness, heartburn, palpitation and a most wonderful cure and preventive for Fever and Ague. [We advise all who are troubled with this fearful malady to always keep the Powders on hand for immediate use.]
Here are a few important particulars:
1st.—They are the Great Specific for all Bilious Affections.
2d.—They are the only known remedy that will cure Liver Complaint.
3d.—They are the only known remedy that will cure Constipation.
4th.—The Powders are so thorough in their operation that the package will be all that the majority of those using them will require to effect a cure.
5th.—They are a mild and pleasant yet the most effectual cathartic known.
6th.—They are the cheapest and best medicine extant, as they can be sent by mail to any part of the world for the price, 50 cents. Circulars, containing certificates, information, &c., sent to any part of the world free of charge.

J. J. GOOD,
GUNSMITHING.
AND DEALER IN
Guns, Pistols, and all kinds of Pistol Cartridges. Superior Gun Powder, Powder, Flasks, Shot Bags, and all kinds of sporting apparatus.
Also a large assortment of Keys on hand, and fitted to suit locks of all kinds.
ALSO the exclusive right of Harrison county, for the sale of the Singer New

Family Sewing Machine,
This machine is without a superior in the world. It runs as fast and easy and with as little noise as any first class machine in market. It will sew from the stoutest leather to the finest bank bill, and makes every stitch perfect. It hems, fells, binds, cords and tucks; and is adapted to every variety of work. It is strong, compact and durable, and will last twenty years, for ordinary family sewing; if not broken by accident or carelessness. But it is useless to parade a long list of the merits of this machine before the public, as the poorest concerns furnish them in the greatest abundance. All can try this machine by calling on the agent and it will proclaim its own merits.

I. T. Martin's
WHOLESALE GROCERY!
WE are prepared to furnish Jobbers with Sugar, Tea and Coffee, in fact, everything in the grocery line,
AT CINCINNATI PRICES!!!!
Freight and Drayage added.
We would call the attention of Farmers and others, who are in the habit of purchasing their goods at the river, to our stock and prices. We think we can save it to their interest to lay in their supplies in this market. We think we understand our business; we buy strictly for cash and have adopted the motto of shorts profits and quick sales on a cash base.
